Announcement of the new Chief Executive Officer at the Institute of Public Finance (IPF)

Following a comprehensive evaluation, the Board of Directors of IPF is pleased to announce the appointment of Mr. Daniel Wanjohi Ndirangu as the new Chief Executive Officer of the Institute of Public Finance, effective January 1, 2026.

Daniel has been part of IPF since 2016, rising through the institution with a strong track record of excellence in program leadership, partnerships, and strategic execution. His appointment reflects both his merit and the depth of talent within IPF. He holds a Master of Public Policy and Management from Strathmore Business School and a Bachelor of Arts in Economics and Sociology from Kenyatta University. A seasoned public policy analyst, Daniel has led multimillion-shilling programmes, spearheaded strategic partnerships, driven policy advocacy, and strengthened IPF's capacity for evidence generation, programmatic excellence, and sector-wide influence.

Mr. Ndirangu succeeds our founder CEO, Mr. James Muraguri, whose visionary leadership has shaped IPF into a globally recognized public finance think tank. We thank Mr. Muraguri for his exceptional service and welcome Daniel as he leads IPF into its next chapter of growth, innovation, and impact.

IPF remains fully committed to its mission of advancing transparency, accountability, and participation in public finance management, and we look forward to continued collaboration with all our partners as we usher in this new chapter.

Sincerely,

James Kimori
Board Chairperson,
Institute of Public Finance.
